Share Class CI-EUR

ISIN LU1899150046

A Sub-Fund of FWU Protection Fund SICAV, a Luxembourg UCITS.

Management Company: FWU Invest S.A., 4a rue Albert Borschette, L-1246 Luxembourg

Objectives and investment policy

Objective: Maximize long-term capital growth.

Benchmark (for reference only):

100% MSCI Europe

Portfolio securities: The Sub-Fund invests mainly in shares. The Sub-Fund may also invest in money market instruments and derivatives.

The Sub-Fund may use forward currency contracts, for currency hedging (reducing currency risk) only.

Investment process: The management company invests in large- and midcap companies in Western Europe based on quantitative and fundamental analyses. The quantitative model estimates the prevailing pattern in the market and selects the optimal portfolio of stocks accordingly. The portfolio is managed with a structurally high degree of diversification in mind. The management company will in addition rely on an option-based strategy where some of the marginal performance in extreme positive markets is sold off in exchange of a more stable and higher return over the longer term.

Designed for: Investors who understand the risks of this Sub-Fund and who plan to invest their money for the long term.

Base currency: EUR.

TERMS TO UNDERSTAND

Derivatives: Financial instruments whose value depends on one or more indexes, securities, rates or currencies.

Money market instruments: Financial instruments designed to provide stable value, interest and a very low risk of loss, as well as being readily convertible into cash.

Shares: Securities that represent a share in the business results of a company.

You can buy or sell shares of the Sub-Fund only if you are an institutional investor, on every day that is a whole business day.

These shares are accumulation shares (meaning any income received is retained in the value of the shares).

Risk and reward profile

The value of an investment in the Sub-Fund can go up and down. When you sell your shares, they may be worth less than what you paid for them. If your currency as an investor is different from the subscription currency of the Sub-Fund, changes in currency exchange rates could reduce any investment gains or increase any investment losses.

The rating is based on medium-term volatility (variations in the Sub-Fund's share price over a recent period, generally several years). Going forward, the Sub-Fund's actual volatility could be lower or higher, and its rated risk/reward level may be changed. The above risk rating is based on past performance, is not guaranteed and may shift over time.

The risk rating does not reflect the possible effects of unusual market conditions, which could amplify everyday risks and could trigger other risks, such as:

Counterparty risk: The Sub-Fund could lose money if an entity with which it does business becomes unwilling or unable to honor its commitments to the Sub-Fund.

Liquidity risk: Certain securities could become hard to value, or to sell at a desired time and price.

Management risk: Portfolio management techniques that have worked well in normal market conditions could prove ineffective or detrimental during unusual conditions.

Operational risk: In any market, but particularly in emerging markets, the Sub-Fund could suffer large losses from system breakdowns, undetected flaws, fraud, corruption, political or military actions, seizure of property or other adverse events.
